FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Important New Developments in Airing of A&E Series *The Devil Next Door

Spindale, North Carolina – December 3, 2018 – A&E postponed the heavily-promoted premiere of its new series The Devil Next Door which was originally scheduled to air November 27, 2018. The postponement followed a call by The Word of Faith Fellowship, the target of the series, for the network to cancel the series and adhere to its previously-stated internal guidelines which caused it to cancel its documentary Escaping the KKK in December 2016 after discovery of payments to participants.

Inconsistencies in A&E's public responses raise several unanswered questions which include:

- Was the series postponement related to church criticism?
- Were participants of the series paid?
- Is the series a credible documentary or merely entertainment?
- Should the credibility of paid church critics be discounted by their acceptance of the payments?

We will be releasing more information as the story continues to unfold.
